WhosOnLocation Secures Prison Services

7 November, 2011 - WhosOnLocation, the IT company that specializes in online visitor management software, has successfully rolled out its web-based people presence service, WhosOnLocation, to 19 prisons across the country.

WhosOnLocation worked with the Department of Corrections to give prison gate house staff across all 19 prisons real-time access to photos, credentials, and the rights of access of thousands of approved volunteer service providers who visit prisons each week.

As part of the solution WhosOnLocation partnered with ADT Armourguard to deliver a fully integrated ID Card Bureau service making the process of validating a volunteer service provider's credentials as simple as swiping an ID Card.

WhosOnLocation gives the Department's Prison Services unprecedented control over access rights, ID validation, and reporting.

Over 1.5 million visitor events have been processed in the last 18 months by customers already using WhosOnLocation, the world's most advanced Software as a Service people presence management service.

With WhosOnLocation welcoming thousands of visitors and contractors each day to corporate offices, government departments, construction and project sites, and manufacturing plants this latest contract gives WhosOnLocation a stake in the ground for high-security sites.
